Neal's computer architecture portion of the computer science foundations program was a good educational experience. He had the students involved in a wide range of activities in the first quarter, and I particularly liked his inclusion of the Logisim CAD program. He was a very enjoyable lecturer. During the second quarter, however, he chose to lecture from power points provided by our text book. I would have greatly preferred if he didn't use power points. Other than that, he was a very good teacher in a very good class.
