Sherri helped me through a lot of difficult programming concepts. She is obviously an extremely competent programmer, and I enjoyed it when she demonstrated some of the ways she would choose to design code in class. Including Haskell as our first language was very satisfying for me, and she chose a very good Java book for the second quarter. Many students complained that she seemed to become frustrated and condescending when she was asked a question, though I did not have this problem. In second quarter, she chose to lecture from power points provided by the textbook, and I would have preferred if she instead explained things and demonstrated code to us directly. I also would have liked more lab time. Otherwise, a very satisfying educational experience for me.
